

IT Security Pubcast: McAfee 2010 predictions

Sunday, 14 February 2010

The Pubcast team made their way to the McAfee Offices to discuss their recently released 2010 predictions, as well as the deal struck between themselves and Facebook, which may have a very positive impact on malware reduction.

As one of the largest anti-malware organizations. McAfee invest significant resources in understanding the security landscape. Their 2010 predictions held some surprises which warranted some inquiry. But on the day that the team was to do the interview, McAfee and Facebook announced an agreement that had to be discussed.
