

Pubcast: From the 2010 ITWeb Security Summit - I see dead people!

Thursday, 13 May 2010

The Pubcast team went to the 2010 ITWeb Security Summit and interviewed some of the presenters and attendees. In this, the first interview to be released, Mason Maeherry from Lawtrust discusses the complexity of fingerprinting dead people ...

Fraud, apparently, even happens in the morgue with cadavers experiencing identity theft in the interests of illegal gain.

And so it was that it fell to Mason Maeherry to determine how best to fingerprint the dead. And what other way to ensure that the approach works than by doing it yourself?
