

Pubcast: The Symantec View

Saturday, 25 September 2010

The Information Security landscape changes every month, with acquisitions leading to fewer and larger vendor and product camps.

Symantec is in the center of this, with recent acquisitions Verisign and PGP pointing to the future company direction.

The Pubcast went to the Woodmead Symantec offices to discuss the state of the company and the industry with Justin Doo.

There were difficulties recording this episode, and we apologize for the sound quality issues.
