

Pubcast: Fighting Back

Sunday, 13 November 2011

Doctor Khomotso Kganyago is the Chief Security Advisor at Microsoft South Africa.

In this wide ranging discussion he discusses the state of Information Security within Microsoft, the state of South African Security (including recent research on the topic), the need for greater national Information Security awareness as well as recent work Microsoft has done to close down Botnets.

Must as the Pubcast team tried, he would not discuss Windows 8.

The research on South African Security can be found at: <http://kganyago.org/2011/10/31/malware-trends-in-south-africa-ms-sirv11/>
